

The Harvest Fields

Winter 2016

Precious Compassion Partners, I trust the Holiday season was memorable for each of you. As for me and mine, we truly celebrated Jesus this year.

The Eleventh Hour

Our annual Caribbean Christmas Child started out looking very glum. As of November 10th, very few churches were motivated this year or perhaps unable to share Christmas joy with the children of Haiti. I was saddened thinking of all the expensive gifts that would be bought this year, while my children in Haiti were simply saying "All I want for Christmas is a toothbrush".

However, as is His customary character, my Father came through at the 11:59 hour to provide gifts for the precious souls in Haiti. Many thanks to Triumphant Faith, PA -Pastors J Dykeman & Sandra Brown, Word of Life, NJ -Pastors Sharon & Victor Cooper, Golden Needles Senior Center, AZ and New Beginning Christian Church, CA – Pastor Terry & LaRonica Whitehurst for our gifts this year.

We also want to thank Pastor David & Mae Street - Heaven Bound Tabernacle, PA, Pastor James Edlow - Faith Fellowship Baptist Church, PA and Pastor Orin McCoy - New St. John Baptist Church for special offerings to cover taking the gifts in.

The team that took the gifts in was also a blessing, ministering through services, a medical clinic, and outreach and also sharing Christmas joy with a new orphanage this year. Praise God for His "unspeakable Gift" of Jesus!

Eviction Notice

For several years now, our school children in Haiti were instructed while in the courtyard, before morning devotions to stretch their hands in the direction of a voodoo temple across the street and to pray aloud that he either be converted or leave. I was told that the voodoo priest heard their prayers and laughed saying, he was going nowhere. Welllllll, "In His time" God had the last laugh, and upon entering Haiti this year for Christmas, I found out that his "business" was failing and he had to relocate to another part of Haiti. I rejoiced with my children that God heard and answered their prayers. Don't mess with the King's Kids!!!

Benin News

The initial vision God gave me upon entering Benin was to establish two schools, one would be a tuition based school (Calavi) which would eventually be able to cover all expenses for another school for the poor in the village (Agondoton). The goal was for the work in Benin to become indigenous; self-supporting, self-propagating and self-governing. I thought this day was 2-3 years off, and before I left Benin in June, there was another plot of the enemy against the school in Calavi.

But Glory to God; I entered Benin in April 2016 with a generous gift from an awesome supporter that is allowing us to expand the school in Calavi. Furthermore, the Father sent nearly 50 new students for Calavi this September in spite of the enemy's attack, Benin has arrived - JUBILEE! Now we only need to focus on raising funds to finish construction of the school in the village, and after that "we be free".

India Report

Enlarging our Territory – India

Some time back, God led me to orchestrate a Mission Conference for Pastors. While doing research, I found that India was among the 5 most unreached nations coming in first place with over 2000 unreached peoples, China came in second with only 439. Needless to say, while I was searching to share /speak with the pastors, God was speaking to me. Hence I took my first investigative trip in September with a mission I am considering partnering with called Ambassador's Fellowship.

Ambassador's Fellowship Staff - India

It was an eye opening and heart pulling experience. Please pray with me as I embark on raising funds to be a part of making disciples to reach this nation for Christ. If anyone is interested in being a monthly partner for India with a monthly commitment gift of $25 or more, please send earmarked accordingly. Thanks in advance for allowing the Holy Spirit to speak to your hearts.

Thanks to all of you who are steadfast with me in reaching the world for Christ.

Working with my Father,

Brenda
